THE OPTIMIST.

Since time began, the optimist has seen the doughnut while the pessimist has seen the hole. And this condition will never be changed. The rise and fall of Nations effects it not at all.

Those with a vision, those who can look into the future and see there the silver lining to the present clouds are the optimists. They are the men who reap the reward of optimism—SUCCESS.

Our Farm Agent, Mr. R. D. Bailey, one of the livest men in Crawford County is looking for some one to put forth a prize or two tor his contest-between the farmers of the county. Who is the first merchant to come across with the goods? Mr. Bailey will be glad to explain and give you all necessary information. Let's help Mr. Bailey and incidentally get a little rivalry started among the rural folks of our county. It will be good for them and advertising for the merchant who provides the prize. Let's go.

The merchants of Grayling need to get together and iron out a few of their various problems which are mutual. Why not a Merchants Association to work in harmony with the Board of Trade? The problems facing the merchants of this town are getting more numerous and they are subjects which the Board of Trade cannot work on. What do you say?

At the conclusion of the program prizes were awarded for the pupil having the best standing for the term. This was awarded to Ellen Fahler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fahler of this city who stood 38 8-10 per cent for her first 12 weeks work. Professor Fuller presented her with a music roll. Prizes were also awarded to the pupils showing the best musical ability in execution, technic, etc. The first prize, a music roll, was won by Fern Silsby of Roscommon, second by Iva Prehn, of Graylling, and third by Celia Henry of Roscommon. The judges were Miss Gneich and Prof. E. G. Clark. During the evening complimentary bouquets were received by several on the program. Professor Fuller has had a number of years experience as well as the best of musical training and Grayling is fortunate in having him in the community as a musical instructor,

ROSCOMMON COUNTY FARMER TRIED TO BEAT INSURANCE CO. IS BELLEF.

Charles Smith, a Roscommon county armer is in trouble because the Troopers of the Michigan State Police, division of the Department of Public Safety have a suspicion that he was more than anything else that was rais-

BOARD OF TRADE ENJOY NOON LUNCHEON,

Members Answer Pertinent Questions

A mid-day luncheon was enjoyed by iembers of the Board of Trade at Shoppenagon Inn today and a good rowd was in attendance.

Besides the food that was served replies to questionnaires, that had been previously placed in the hands of the members, were turned in. These questions led to considerable discussion and prot out many excellent ideas. The questionnaire contained the fol owing inquiries:

1. "What do you expect the Board of Trade to do for the promotion of your own line of business or profes-

2. "What, in your opinion as a citien, are the things of first importance that the appropriate as a done for the community as a

If the people of Crawford County, some of whom are members of the Board of Trade, will carn to be more appreciative of their home newspaper, it will add materially to the "promoting of our business." It is those families who have been layay to other communities who have this those lamines who have been away to other communities who have had opportunity to make comparison of hewspapers, that come to us and say that "they can't compare with the AVALANCHE for news." That is AVALANCHE for news." Inst is what the people want and is what they get. This is not a complaint but a plain answer to question number one. Now for question number 2, "Things of first importance to be done for the community as a whole."

What do we need? We have industries that in normal times furnish employment for all who wish to work; our schools are of the highest standard; pur churches are explaint. ployment for all who wish to work; bur schools are of the highest standard; aur churches are excellent; we have a wonderful climate and water that is unsurpassed in purity and quality. These matters are all well taken care of. Our people are contented and happy and we believe most of us are quite self satisfied. But are we satisfied, with the general appearance of our town? Are the residents of this community entitled to more pleasing outlooks as they travel about our city? We believe they are. We believe we need more civic pride. Of course we are improving each year but there is still much that may be done.

We cannot hope to re-construct our store buildings but we can be more generous with paint and endoavor to use colors in harmony with adjacent buildings. Some day we will be able to remove wire poles from main street, which will do much toward improving appearances. Concrete pavement from the railroad to Michelson Memorial church corner-will help a lot also. In the resident districts there are many poplars that should be replaced with maples, basswood or other more desirable trees. More attention should be given to lawns and vards.

Let's Put Up Some Ice.

Every farmer should put up some e at once. We will need it in the dairying that we are going to com-mence in the spring. We will need it mence in the spring. SYNOPSIS.—At the death of his foster father Bruce Duncan, in an eastern city, receives a mysterious massage, sent by a Mrs. Ross, summoning him peremptorily to southern Oregon—to meet "Linda." ern Oregon—to meet "Linda."
Bruce has vivid but baffing recollections of his childhood in an orphanage, before his adoption by Newton Duncan, with the girl Linda. At his destination, Trail's End, news that a message has been sent to Bruce gets to Simon Turner. Leaving the train, Bruce is astonished at his applicant familiarity with the surroundings, though to his knowledge he has never been there. On the way Simon warms him to give up his quest and return East. Bruce refuses. Mrs. Ross, aged and infirm, welcomes him on his way—the end of "Pine-Needle Trail." He made the attack with aston intention was to deliver at least one terrific blow before Simon could get his arms up to defend himself. He had given the huge clan leader credit for tremendous physical strength, but he didn't think that the heav could move with real agility. But the great muscles seemed to snap into ension, the head ducked to one side, and his own huge fists struck out.

If Bruce's blow had gone straight home where it had been aimed. Simon would have had nothing more to say for a few moments at least. The leap had been powerful and swift yet wholly inaccurate. And the reason was just that his wrists and ankles had been numbed by the tight thongs by which they had been confined. Simon met the leap with a short, powerful blow into Bruce's face; and he reeled backward. The arms of the clansmen alone kept him from falling.

The blow seemed to daze Bruce; and at first his only realization was that the room suddenly rang with harsh and grating laughter. Then Simon's words broke through it. "Put back the thongs," he ordered, "and go get Jour horses."

THE 1923 Series Studebakes Light-Six Touring Car was shown for the first time at the New York Automobile Show.

Many pronounced this car the most striking feature of the show. It was certainly the center of the crowd.

The Light-Six Touring Car is beautiful, roomy and comfortable. In design, mechanical excellence and equipment it is a worthy member of the world's greatest line of quality motor cars.

The new body is all-steel, with wide, deep and comfortable seats, upholstered, as usual, in genuine leather. The rear seat is 43½ inches wide, which provides ease and comfort for three saults. Cushions are ten inches deep. The Light-Six Touring Car is as comfortable as that favorite chair in your living room.

The one-piece, rain-proof windshield, with cowi lights in base, and the cowi ventilator are improvements for moderate priced cars originated by Studebaker.

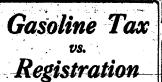

The Light-Six chassis, the dependability of which has been stablished in the hands of 100,000 owners, remains practically achanged. The body, windshield, radiator, cowl and fittings are

GRAYLING MICHIGAN Harry Simpson,

By COLONEL SIDNEY D. WALDON, President Detroit Automobile Club.

Statistics show that six years is the average life of all motor vehicles in the United States. The curve of value, therefore, is a constantly descending one from brand new to the vanishing point.

The average value throughout this six years of normal life is one-third of the original price. One would think it should be one-half instead of one-third, until it is realized that the greatest depreciation occurs during the first and second years.

It is practically impossible to a praise the actual fair value of ever motor vehicle in the state every year and to take into proper account all of the influences that affect its deprecia tion, such as mileage run, daily care amount of overhauling and refinishing, price fluctuations of similar ve hicles, progress of the art (making older types obsolete) etc., etc. And so it has from necessity become an established custom to tax moto

Weight and horsepower bear an indirect but not a uniform relation to value. For instance, a new Packard Twin Six represents three times as much value per pound as a new Ford, or expressed inversely every dollar pent in buying a Ford obtains three times as much material by weight as in a Twin Six. To tax the Ford and the Packard at the same rate per hundred pounds is to impose an unfair burden upon the Ford. This, however, can be very easily corrected.

vehicles through registration fees that are based on weight and horsepower instead of upon value.

Let us now see how a tax on gaso line imposes its burden upon these two typical-vehicles.

A Packard Twin Six costs approxi mately ten times as much as a Ford, but only uses twice as much fuel per mile. For every ten dollars that the Packard man pays, the Ford owner has to contribute five dollars. Gasoline consumption, therefore, bears no motor vehicles. Also forty to forty mileage of this state is made upon city it may be dismissed as a measure of road use, or of highway wear and tear. No law can be framed putting a tax upon gasoline that will not automatically place its heaviest burden upor the poor and work decidedly in favor of the rich.

for six years is $181.00. The present Michigan state tax is $11.10. or 8.4 per cent of the average fair market value throughout its six years of normal life.

Assume that a one-cent gasoline tax upon a Ford averages $5.00 per year. This is 3.8 per cent of the average value and when added to the present registration fee, equals 12.2 per cont that must be paid by the Ford owner State every year for the six years of normal life.

Packard Twin Six Costs $3850.00. Its average fair market value per year for six years is $1283.00. The present Michigan state tax is $26.15, or 2 per cent of the average fair market value for six

Assume that a one-cent gasoline tax upon it averages $10.00 per year. This is only seven-tenths of one per cent of the average value and when added to the present registration fee equals 2.7 per

All other vehicles fall into their relative positions between these two extremes.

From the above it is apparent that our present registration law imposes an annual tax of 8.4% upon the average fair market value of the Ford and of 2% upon the Packard. From the standpoint of average value, therefore, the Ford owner is paying over four times as much tax every year as tire group were well over Canadian a one-cent tax on gasoline means 3.8% the average fair market value of the Ford, and only seven-tenths of one per cent upon the Packard. One of the often-heard arguments in favor of the gasoline tax is that the visiting tourist would be made to pay upon the fuel he uses his share of highway maintenance. Disregarding the value of the tourist as a money spender in our midst, the amount col ected from him during his short stay would be relatively insignificant compared with the unjust burden such a of our motorists, namely upon those Declares Taniac Ended Indigestion, Chest Pains and Palpitation-Lost Strength-Restored.

"Tanlac has improved my general condition ten times more than I anticipated," recently stated Herbert A. Gupill, a well-known school teacher of Kezar Falls, Maine.

"My trouble began with a sudden loss of strength. Almost everything I ate disagreed with me and caused a sickening sensation that remained with me for hours. For months I found breathing difficult on account of inligestion, and had such chest pains and palpitation I thought my heart was affected. I also suffered greatly from headaches and nervousness, seldom slept well, and felt tired and wornout all the time."

Case for an Expert. Mr. Swivel was much perturbed to find that the three pounds of meat which he had purchased for dinner had mysteriously disappeared. His wife, aiding in the search and noticing what she took to be a guilty look on the face of the family cat, pointed to it, and said:
"There's the meat,"

"Why, no," objected Swivel, "that little thing couldn't get away with three pounds of meat. Still, let's weigh her and find out."

They did so. The scales registered un even three pounds.

Mrs. Charles Austin, Maple St., Grayling, says: "My back caused me trouble and mornings when I got up I trouble and mornings when I got up I felt tired out. It seemed as though my back always ached, especially when I did any stooping or lifting work. I couldn't sleep at all and felt tired and worn out and became nervous, irritable and depressed. Black spots before my eyes which bothered me greatly in the morning made me dizzy. I had headaches and was so run down I didn't know what to do. I saw how well Doan's Kidney, Pills were liked, so I got several boxes at Lewis' Drug Store and after using them I was cured."
